risitors. Washington and Lee beat Roanoke College by the score of 5 to 1 to-day.

The Salem batsmen gave Jap Efird no trouble, and the four hits they got off his delivery were scattered. The Varsity inheld pulled off three fast double plays, and gave Efird perfect support, the only error being made by Webster, in right garden. Ed Brown accepted six chances at the third corner, and Smith took in live at second. Captain Strass is still out of the game, but Peeples covered first exceptionally well. He figured in the double plays with Smith and Erwin.

The locals were a little off in their stick work, and Cooper pulled out of some tight places.

Close Finish of Seventh Race Rochester Nine Walks Over Colts, and Game Goes Slowly.

TOO EARLY FOR KNOCKS

Fans Discourage Local Team, and Give Visitors Bad Impression.

Richmond lost to Rochester, an Eastern League club, and out of the Coits' class, ysterday by a score of 11 to 2. Two of the local pichers— Peterson and Waymack—were batted Peterson and Waymack—were batted hard, and the team did not play well behind them. There were dumb plays that helped the visitors to ple up runs, and there were chances for scores by Lawlor's men, that did not materialize. The Richmond team did not do itself justice, and in the practice series has shown up much better.

But the performance yesterday by the Colts offered no excuse for the severe roasting that came from the spectators, and Manager Ganzel, of the Rochester nine, was perfectly right when he screamed to the bleachers: "What do you expect of a team when you don't give it a show?" There were raps from every quarter when the game went against Richmond; but those who yelled loudest paid the cheapest entrance fee, and they disgusted the visitors with the whole crowd. Manager Lawlor was selected as a mark of unjust ridicule, as the appearances are that he has good chances for a winning team, and if his own batting average was summed up But the performance yesterday b own batting average was summed up for the games played, it would prob-ably be better than any man on the ably be better than any man on the local nine last year.

Lawlor had one easy chance in left field to get a ball that resulted in a hit, and he refused to take it. Irvine made a dumb play in the very first inning when he allowed Anderson to steal home. Landgraff ought to have held the ball in the same inning, when Anderson got to second. Gilligan three one ball away over Bigbie's head that let in two runs. Other Anderson ball away over Line threw one ball away over Line three t

Against Major Leaguers.

The Rochester team—consider it—is composed largely of men who are not quite good enough to be in one or another of the major leagues. Some of those who showed against Richmond yesterday are among the best known players in the country. There is Ganzel, for instance, who used to be in the game with Cincinnait, and Pattee and Alperman and others, that look and Alperman and others, that look remarkably good from the grandstand, and the wonder is they are not top-notchers. But the blescherites roasted the home team, and served to get a good-natured crowd down on a team that is going in to land the Virginia League pennant.

League pennant, There was no roast for Baker, There was no roast for Baker, at shortstop, who took every chance that came his way without an error. Nobody kicked on Landgraff, and his error was excused on the strength of his stick work. Titman nailed a dandy past Holly for a three-base hit, and cilligan, who is out of his position at third base, surely didn't do anything to deserve the roset handed out to the third base, surely didn't do anything to deserve the roast handed out to the

when the season opens and Richmond is on the bottom—if she ever is —it will be time enough to kick; but until then, and at least as long as the try-outs are getting good practice, the fans might overlook mistakes.

Visitors Earned Runs.

Until the fourth inning yesterday Peterson did not allow the Rochester sluggers a single hit. But he weakened in the fourth and form.

Peterson did not allow the Rochester sluggers a single hit. But he weak-ened in the fourth, and four singles netted one run. He was batted freely in the fifth, and in the sixth John Waymack took his place. In his first inning Waymack allowed three hits, one a three-bagger, but in the seventh and eighth he was stronger, and held his opponents. Ganzel's three-base hit was a corker.

The display of college spirit has not been more marked since the victory of the football team over the Navy last November. The students marched down to Union Station from the university and procured a large tallyho, to which were attached four horses. As the train pulled in from the South, bediam broke loose. The members of the team were lifted bodily from the platform of the car to seats in the tallyho. After singing numerous college songs, the start for the university was made, the tallyho leading the procession, and the undergraduates falling in behind in columns of four. Enfoute the various college yells were given, with the names of the players at the close of each yell. The first to be thus singled out was Witmer, the team's star twirler, who has been pitching consistent ball all season. In Saturday's game with North Carolina, he appeared to his best, allowing the Tarheels but three scattered hits, and having a total of eleven strikeouts to his credit.

The decided brace taken by the nine in recent games has revived interest in baseball, and the remaining games of the schedule will be watched with much interest. Of the last five games played, four have been won. The team broke even with Lafayette, defeated the Toronto club of the Eastern League 2 to 1, and captured two straight games from the University of North Carolina, both on foreign grounds. The team will be idle most of this week, the only game on the schedule being that with Georgetown on Saturday. In order to keep the players in shape for that contest, games will probably be played each afternoon with the second team, which won fame Saturday afternoon by playing a nine_inning tie with the Toronto club of the Eastern League.
